
Join us for Tipping the Pain Scale

Have you registered yet?

We are one week away from the first Tipping the Pain Scale film screening.

At these events, we will present the movie Tipping the Pain Scale, a film that explores the systems that have been ineffective in curbing the opioid epidemic as well as the solutions addiction professionals have started to implement. The movie is from the filmmakers who created The Anonymous People and Generation Found.

After each screening, experts from the field will engage in discussion about how policies and services can be changed to better address the opioid and overdose crisis in North Carolina and the needs of the region. The purpose is to facilitate meaningful discussion that focuses on solutions that will move our field forward and affect lasting change in our state.

The events are now hybrid. Here's what that means for you:

- You can watch the film on your own via a password-protected webpage.
- The panel discussion will be streamed live on the same page.
